Additional Information:

- 1886 and 1887 Annual Town Reports: No assessment upon Thomas Kilmain
- In the 1888 Report, we first find an assessment for a dwelling valued at $700 (appreciating to $750 in two years' time). In 1889, the assessment adds a second dwelling at $1100, and in 1891, a "dwelling, unfinished" valued at $150 (becoming finished in 1892, and valued at $700).
- Of the three Kilmain houses on Lots 8, 9 and 10, today's 30 Cedar Street corresponds with that built upon Lot 10, according to the 1897 Stadley atlas. The Lot 10 house is also the smallest of the three. We therefor take 30 Cedar Street to be last built of these three Kilmain houses (i.e., 1891) and the one with the smallest assessed value in 1892.
